

Welcome the interruption

Week 3 SF Action Steps

Safe Families for Children isn't just about a Host Family welcoming a child into their home. It's about a community of people coming around a parent in crisis. In this community, some volunteers host children, some volunteers build friendships and mentor parents, some volunteers check in to see how the parent and host family need help and resources and other volunteers provide practical things like meals and clothing. We call this community of volunteers a "Circle of Support."

Here are a few things your group can do to explore and begin your journey to be on mission with Safe Families:

1. As a small group, check out our Circle of Support model and volunteer roles here: <https://safe-families.org/involvement/>
2. Use our Circle of Support Home Gathering Guide for one of your meetings. This bible study will help your group see God's design for serving as a group with Safe Families. Request information here: <https://safe-families.org/grow/home-gatherings/>
3. Contact your local chapter to get trained as a group to become a Circle of Support: <https://safe-families.org/locations/>
